Dear '76 classmate,

Ready or not, here it comes. Our 35th Reunion is just two short months away. If you are already on our “Yes!” list, read no further. Skip to the registration form, and we will look forward to catching up with you in October.

But if you opened this feeling slightly queasy at the thought of returning to the Farm, rest assured, you are not alone. We have heard plenty of excuses for missing Reunion: crazy work schedules, ill pets, flat tires. We get it. But here are five very good reasons why you should take a deep breath, bite the bullet, and get yourself to Stanford in October:

1. Our Friday night Class Party being held on-campus at the Cantor Arts Center (Leland Stanford Junior Museum). 2. This is the first time Cantor has ever hosted a Reunion Class Party! 3. Our Friday class panel to be facilitated by class icon Guy Kawasaki. 4. Retelling stories with old friends. (Funny how the stories become grander as the years go by!) 5. Making new friends and wondering how it took 35 years to finally connect. Soaking in all that makes Stanford glorious – the campus, the foothills, the sun and the whir of students going from place to place.

Will we see you? Please say yes. It will not be the same without you.

Until October,

Chuck Corder

1:00 – 2:45 p.m.
Our panel, moderated by our own Class of ’76 Guy Kawasaki, will lead us through a few poignant vignettes from the lives of a handful of our classmates, helping us to glean how to best influence what people will do while maintaining the highest standards of ethics. Is it possible, as Pablo Coelho writes in The Alchemist, that, “When you really want something, the entire universe conspires in helping you to achieve it.” Please join us as we explore love, danger, opportunity, and disaster in the quest of our dreams and the fulfillment of our destinies.
